In Hoc Signo Vinces

Today's issue of The College News, by courtesy of the undergraduates, is edited and published by the alumnae in behalf of the Faculty Two Million Dollar Campaign for Salaries. With such unity of spirit as is typified in the very printing of these words, Bryn Mawr enters the field to defend her standards by doubling her present endowment.

It is by far the greatest undertaking which has fallen upon the college since its foundation in 1884. There is as much hazard to be faced as in those pioneer days. Then it was a feat of creation; now it is a struggle to save the soul of the college. Bryn Mawr will cease to be Bryn Mawr if its quality of education deteriorates.

President Thomas, as her life work, has made the college what it is. The college has formed the character and ability of its alumnae. The time has come when the alumnae in their turn must give in thought and time and wealth what they owe in gratitude and loyalty.

The trustees of the college, the faculty, the executives and the staff may all resign, severing their last connection here, but the alumnae are Bryn Mawr. They must take upon themselves the final responsibility for raising the endowment.

The annual meeting and round table this week-end is a dedication to the task which lies ahead. Scarcely more than 250 of the 4000 who owe allegiance to Bryn Mawr will be able to be present. But by mail and personal contact each one of them will be brought into the army of women who, wherever they are, this year will show their appreciation and their loyalty to the college.

LUNCHEON GIVEN DR. SPURGEON BY FOUR WOMEN'S COLLEGES

Bryn Mawr, Vassar, Smith and Barnard gave a luncheon at the Colony Club last Monday to welcome Dr. Caroline Spurgeon, professor of English literature at the University of London and president of the Federation of University Women of Great Britain, and Dr. Ida Smedley MacLean, professor of Science at the University of London and treasurer of the Federation, who have just arrived in this country to arouse interest in the world federation of college women.

Dean Gildersleeve, of Barnard, presided and President Neilson, of Smith, made the address of welcome.

LEAGUE OF COLLEGE WOMEN DESCRIBED BY MISS DONNELLY

Specially Contributed by Professor Lucy Donnelly

College women are forming a League of Nations of their own—a world-wide Federation of University Women which is of special interest to Bryn Mawr, with her long line of European fellows and her scholars among foreign women.

The suggestion came to America from the university women of Great Britain, following the visit here in the autumn of 1918, as members of the British Educational Mission, of Professor Caroline Spurgeon and Professor Rose Sidgwick, and was taken up by the Committee on International Relations of the A. C. A.

Pres. Thomas and Dean Taft Delegates

Dean Gildersleeve, of Barnard College, chairman of the American Committee; Dean Taft, of Bryn Mawr, and President Thomas were appointed delegates to the annual conference of the Federation of University Women of Great Britain held in London in July. At one of its meetings President Thomas spoke on the general plan of international federation. It was, therefore, agreed to form such a federation, consisting at first of the British and American Federations, and to hold the first International Conference in the summer of 1920.

Paris Women Organized

The British Federation was to take steps to have the women of Sweden join the International Federation and the American Committee was to approach the women of Canada. Later, in their visits to Paris and Rome, President Thomas and Dean Taft discussed plans for international co-operation with men and women especially interested in education; and during the summer also, Miss Perlenie, a graduate of Barnard College, traveling in Peru, organized twelve university women she found there into an association enthusiastic at the prospect of belonging to an international body. It is hoped that the college women of other countries in Latin America as well as the women of the Orient will also join the Federation.

Hospitality to Foreign Students

The aims of the Federation, apart from immediately helping to build up education in countries that have especially suffered from the war, are to promote the exchange of professors and students between different countries and to extend hospitality to them and to other college women visiting foreign countries. Headquarters are being established in New York and London and in Paris, where a hostel has been given by Mrs. Whitelaw for foreign students.

First Exchange Scholar Now at Barnard

The first student to be associated with the plan for the exchange scholarship is studying this year at Barnard College on the foundation established in memory of Professor Rose Sidgwick and is from the University of Birmingham, where Miss Sidgwick was Professor of Political Economy.

By invitation of the American Committee, Professor Spurgeon, President of the Federation of University Women of Great Britain; Dr. Cullis, chairman of the British Commission on Foreign Relations, and Mrs. McLean arrived last week on a visit to the American Universities.

PATHE DURING THE ENDOWMENT FUND DRIVE

EDNA FISCHEL GELLHORN (Mrs. George Gellhorn)

National Chairman of the Anna Howard Shaw Memorial, graduated from Bryn Mawr, 1900, president of the Self-Government Association her Senior year and is permanent president of her class. In 1903 she was married to Dr. George Gellhorn, of St. Louis. They have three sons and a daughter, Martha, who is coming to Bryn Mawr in 1926. Mrs. Gellhorn is a director in the National American Woman Suffrage Association and chairman of the Missouri League of Women Voters. During the war she was chairman for St. Louis of the Committee for State and City Relations of the Federal Food Administration.

HOW PRES. THOMAS STOOD BY SUFFRAGE CAUSE TOLD BY DR. SHAW IN HER AUTOBIOGRAPHY

Miss Shaw and Susan B. Anthony Visited Bryn Mawr to Get Help of Miss Thomas and Miss Garrett in Making Baltimore Convention a Success—$60,000 Fund Raised by Miss Thomas to Pay Salaries of Suffrage Officers

In her autobiography, "The Story of a Pioneer," Dr. Shaw tells of the help given the suffrage cause by President Thomas of Bryn Mawr at a critical time. She writes: "One morning [Miss Anthony] said abruptly, 'Anna, let's go and call on President M. Carey Thomas, of Bryn Mawr.'"

"I wrote a note to Miss Thomas, telling her of Miss Anthony's desire to see her, and received an immediate reply inviting us to luncheon the following day. We found Miss Thomas deep in the work connected with her new college buildings, over which she showed us with much pride. Miss Anthony, of course, gloried in the splendid results Miss Thomas had achieved, but she was, for her, strangely silent and preoccupied. At luncheon she said:

"Miss Thomas, your buildings are beautiful; your new library is a marvel, but they are not the cause of our presence here."

"No," Miss Thomas said, "I know you have something on your mind. I am waiting for you to tell me what it is."

Asked Miss Thomas to Arrange "College Night"

"We want your cooperation, and that of Miss Garrett," began Miss Anthony, promptly, "to make our Baltimore Convention a success. We want you to persuade the Arundel Club of Baltimore, the most fashionable club in the city, to give a reception to the delegates; and we want you to arrange a college night on the programme—a great college night, with the best college speakers ever brought together."

These were large commissions for two extremely busy women, but both Miss Thomas and Miss Garrett—refusing Miss

Anthony's intense earnestness—promised to think over the suggestion and see what they could do. The next morning we received a telegram from them stating that Miss Thomas would arrange the college evening, and that Miss Garrett would reopen her Baltimore home, which she had closed, during the convention. . . .

"Aunt Susan" was overjoyed. . . . She knew that whatever Miss Thomas and Miss Garrett undertook would be accomplished, and rightly regarded the success of the convention as already assured." (pp. 221-223.)

Raised $10,000 to Pay Suffrage Salaries

"One day at luncheon Miss Thomas asked me, casually:

"By the way, how do you raise the money to carry on your work?"

"When I told her the work was wholly dependent on voluntary contributions and on the services of those who were willing to give themselves gratuitously to it, Miss Thomas was surprised. She and Miss Garrett asked a number of questions, and at the end of our talk they looked at each other.

"I don't think," said Miss Thomas, "that we have quite done our duty in this matter."

"The next day they invited a number of us to dinner, to again discuss the situation; and they admitted that they had sat up throughout the previous night, talking the matter over and trying to find some way to help us. They had also discussed the situation with Miss Anthony, to her vast content, and had finally decided that they would try to raise a fund of $60,000 to be paid in yearly instalments of $12,000 for five years—part of these annual instalments to be used as salaries for active officers." (p. 225.)

B. M. MEMORIAL TO ANNA HOWARD SHAW BACKED BY LEADING SUFFRAGISTS; MAY BECOME OFFICIAL MEMORIAL OF NATIONAL SUFFRAGE ASSOCIATION

Ermine Tippet, Diamond Crescent and $20 bill of Dr. Shaw's Given by Miss Anthony to Committee to Help Fund. Campaign Handbook to be Ready by February

$17,126 PLEDGED TO DATE, $100,000 TO BE RAISED BY JUNE;
ST. LOUIS LUNCHEON AT $100 A PLATE NETS CITY'S QUOTA

What Bryn Mawr meant to Dr. Anna Howard Shaw has been recognized by suffragists and other believers in education for women to the extent of $17,126 in pledges toward a memorial to her in the Bryn Mawr Department of Politics. This memorial will be part of the $2,000,000 Endowment Fund.

The cherished wish of the National Shaw Memorial Chairman, Edna Fischel Gellhorn (Mrs. George Gellhorn) '00, of St. Louis, to open the campaign with a dinner at which Ex-President Taft should be the guest of honor, was denied by the orders of Mr. Taft's physician, who would not allow him to make the trip. The opening of the campaign was consequently deferred until Mrs. Slade's visit in December.

A one-hundred-dollar-a-plate luncheon in honor of Mrs. Slade, was given at the St. Louis Club December 17th. The guests, twenty-eight in number, included prominent suffrage workers and members of the Bryn Mawr Club. A spirited appeal by Mrs. Slade brought in pledges amounting to $15,000, the entire quota of the St. Louis district for the Two Million Dollar Fund.

Illinois Suffrage League Endorses B. M. Memorial

Backing from the National Woman Suffrage Association for the Bryn Mawr Memorial will be secured, it is hoped, at their convention in Chicago, February 10-17, when a motion will be introduced to make it the official memorial of the association. The only rival project known is a memorial at the Woman's Medical College, Philadelphia. Valuable advance work for Bryn Mawr has been done by Mary Foulke Morrisson (Mrs. James W. Morrisson) '99, of Chicago, who has obtained the endorsement of the Illinois Suffrage Association for the Bryn Mawr Memorial Chair.

A stirring appeal to suffragists throughout the country to honor Dr. Shaw by contributing to the Anna Howard Shaw fund has been drawn up by Mrs. Gellhorn, and will be sent out shortly. On account of the recent appeal issued by Mrs. Catt for extra funds for ratification the Bryn Mawr letter has been temporarily held back. A test copy sent out to the Indiana Suffrage League brought an instant and extremely cordial reply.

Edith Wyatt Author of Campaign Book

"Dr. Anna Howard Shaw's Connection with Bryn Mawr," an attractive campaign handbook by Edith Wyatt ex-'96, will be ready by the Suffrage Convention in February. Material for this has been collected by Susan Follansbee Hibbard (Mrs. William G. Hibbard) '97, Dr. Shaw's close friend, Miss Lucy Anthony, Professor Kingsbury, and Isabel Foster '15.

Several personal belongings of Miss Shaw's have been turned over by Miss Anthony to be used in the campaign as the committee sees fit. Among them are an ermine tippet which Miss Shaw purchased in Sweden—her one luxury, which she always kept carefully wrapped in a piece of cloth; a diamond crescent pin; and a twenty-dollar bill, given her by the first woman bank president of Rochester, which Miss Shaw kept for luck.

Every Woman Student Asked to Contribute

Subscription blanks will be sent out to schools, colleges and universities in order to give every woman student in the country the chance to contribute. Every donor will have his or her name enrolled in a set of bound volumes to be kept on exhibition in the college library.

Stickers pasted on the subscription blanks will differentiate the Anna Howard Shaw pledges from those to the general fund. Whatever is raised for the Shaw memorial will be credited toward the whole Bryn Mawr quota for the district.

ST. LOUIS

With $15,000 raised in pledges, the St. Louis Endowment Committee plans to unite with Smith and Washington University in a project to raise several thousand dollars by giving a representation of the Atlantic City Boardwalk the week after Easter. The same thing was given in Chicago the week before Christmas and netted about $80,000 for the children's hospital there.

A children's play, given December 18 for the sake of publicity and to interest the children in Bryn Mawr, netted $350 in gate receipts and created a wide interest in the campaign. A tea at which Mary Foulke Morrisson (Mrs. J. W. Morrisson), '99, of Chicago, was the speaker, had been held a little earlier to interest the mothers.

The $15,000 in pledges were taken in at a one hundred dollar a plate luncheon given in honor of Mrs. Slade, December 18, at the St. Louis Club.

WILL SEND OUT SPEAKERS

A speakers' bureau to send out members of the faculty and alumnae to different parts of the country to speak for the Endowment has been formed at national headquarters under Maud Lowrey Jenks (Mrs. Robert Jenks), '00.
